CASE

CONTINUE WITH Q. 190 ON PAGE 45.

190. This last question is different. Scientists have found an interesting way to ask questions which some people feel are too private to talk about. It allows the person to answer honestly, yet secretly. In order to get much needed information on how many abortions there are each year, this method is being used here.

It works this way. To find out which of these two questions (HAND CARD 8) you should answer, you toss a penny. If you get a "HEAD" on your penny, you answer the question that comes after the "head" of a penny (POINT TO PICTURE OF A PENNY AND QUESTION). If you get a "TAIL," you answer the question that comes after the "tail" of the penny. Do not tell me which side of the penny turns up. No one but yourself--not even I--will know which question you are answering! Now, toss this penny (HAND "K" PENNY) and just give me your answer, "yes" or "no."
